Insufficient amounts of any hormone in the body can cause severe consequences and affect the body negatively. Testosterone is the sex hormone found in men that is responsible for numerous functions including regulation of sex drive (libido), development of bone mass and muscle mass, proper distribution of fat, increment of strength, and the production of red blood cells and sperms. It plays a vital role in the overall development of the male body hence, abnormal increase or decrease in the level of the hormones can cause severe health problems. While low Testosterone level can cause conditions like andropause, low stamina, lower mental ability etc., excessive Testosterone may lead to infertility, liver diseases and other such problems. Thus, maintaining its optimum level is crucial for a healthy body. An imbalance in the Testosterone levels can be controlled by certain medicines and therapies. But the best treatment that can be used without any side effects is through Ayurvedic medicines. Weider Prime is a reliable platform that provides testosterone supplement which is age old tested Ayurvedic formulation that maintains adequate balance of the hormones in the body.
